

I am clearly in favor of a free press. However, I do not believe that a centralized organization should be determining what local channels are distributing as news. And is this news? Or is this a commercial?